The UK based Nicaragua Solidarity Campaign (NSC) and Nicaragua Solidarity Campaign Action Group (NSCAG) work with organisations in Nicaragua committed to social and economic justice. We support co-operatives, community organisations and trade unions by facilitating solidarity links with their UK counterparts.

"In the last six years, we have advanced 100% in our aspirations as trade union leaders... it's not just about using positions to fill the quotas, but about occupying positions of power."

Miriam Reyes, UNE Women's Secretary

Nicaragua offers inspirational lessons for us to learn from in our struggles.

Trade unions have won many critical rights for workers.

The co-operative and fair trade movement is at the forefront of innovation. Other countries, including Cuba, are learning from the Nicaraguan experience.

Nicaragua is a member of ALBA (Bolivarian Alliance for the Peoples of our America) in which relations between member states are based on co-operation and solidarity.

Despite the many advances, the country remains among the poorest in the Americas, and many people, particularly in rural areas, still live in extreme poverty, particularly women.
